

Vacancy Details

Job Title:	Head of camera/senior lecturer
Contract:	Permanent, full time (35 hours per week)
Salary/Benefits:	£47,142 per annum, depending on experience, plus a comprehensive employee benefits package.
Location:	Covent Garden, London WC2H 9UB and location studios in Greater London.

In this exciting hands-on role, the post holder will lead the MA Filmmaking camera department, and plan and deliver high quality teaching in the craft of cinematography for the screen industries. The MA Filmmaking is our flagship course, and it offers students the opportunity to work collaboratively as they develop their practical filmmaking skills utilising both film and industry-spec digital cameras.

As well as leading on teaching in this discipline, the successful candidate will plan all cinematography teaching across the course, manage and replenish the team of permanent and visiting lecturers and be active in formative and summative assessment and pastoral support. The successful candidate will also have substantial screen industry experience in this specialism, a research profile or post-graduate qualification at PhD or Masters level, coupled with relevant teaching and academic department management experience.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL

Located in Covent Garden, LFS is the oldest film school in the UK and is consistently rated as one of the top international film schools. Deeply connected to local and international screen industries, we have alumni spanning the globe, and working in every part of the film industry. Our students and alumni have won every major award in the screen industries, and we continue to foster and nurture the next generation of filmmakers. Films created at the school screen globally at festivals including Cannes, Venice, Tribeca, Clermont-Ferrand International Film Festival, The BFI London Film Festival, Edinburgh, Encounters, Oscars, and Sundance.

With around 220 full-time students, from over 30 countries, we are a dynamic hub for high-quality filmmaking activity, preparing creative storytellers for the world's screen industries. We offer three full-time MA programmes, a PhD Film by Practice, and a full calendar of short courses.

For further details about the role please visit our website <https://lfs.org.uk/who-we-are/jobs-at-lfs> where you can download a copy of the job description and person specification.

We offer a highly competitive staff benefits package including 30 days leave per annum (pro rata for part-time staff), employer matched contributory pension scheme (4%), season ticket and hardship loan schemes, up to 18 days professional development leave per academic year (pro rata for part-time staff), cycle to work scheme and Employee Assistance Programme.

How to apply

To apply, please download and complete an anonymous application form plus the Equalities monitoring form, and email it to recruitment@lfs.org.uk by 9am on 19th December 2022

Applicants must be able to provide proof of their ongoing right to live and work in the UK.

LFS is an equal opportunities employer. Whilst all applicants will be judged on merit alone, we especially encourage applications from people who identify as disabled and/or identify as LGBTQIA, black, Asian or are from minority ethnic backgrounds as these groups are under-represented at all levels of staff at LFS.

We reserve the right to close this advert as soon as sufficient applications are received, therefore candidates are advised to submit their application as soon as possible.

London Film School (LFS) is internationally celebrated for its commitment to film, craft excellence, innovation and creative freedom. The School is consistently rated as one of the top international film schools, most recently named in The Hollywood Reporter Top Film Schools 2020.